Some Recent Publications of the Library of Congress¹

Library and Reference Facilities in the Area of the District of Columbia. 7th edition. Edited by Legare H. B. Obear. 1966. 212 p. $1. The 7th edition describes collections of more than 300 local libraries ranging in scope from the encyclopedic collections of the Library of Congress to the specialized collection of the Textile Museum. In addition to notes on resources, each entry includes rules for use of the library, the name of its librarian, its address and telephone number, and relevant information on separate units furnishing public service. The subject index serves as research guide in many special fields. There is also an index of librarians.

A Directory of Information Resources in the United States: Water. Compiled by the National Referral Center for Science and Technology in the Library of Congress. 1966. 248 p. $1.50. This is the first of a series of directories on specialized subjects to be published by the National Referral Center with the support of the National Science Foundation. Two general directories appeared in 1965, one in the physical and biological sciences and engineering and one in the social sciences.

The current publication describes in terms of interest areas, holdings, publications, and services of more than 600 organizations and institutions able to meet specific information needs in the broad subject area of water. Emphasis is on fresh water; oceanography, a broad field in itself, has been excluded. Also excluded are profitmaking activities. Each entry has been submitted to the library, information center, professional society, university research group, or organization it describes to ensure accuracy. Full subject and organization indexes add to the usefulness of the directory.

Nigeria. A Guide to Official Publications. Compiled by Sharon Burdge Lockwood. 1966. 166 p. $1. Nigeria lists, as comprehensively as possible, official materials published by or relating to Nigeria from the establishment of British administration in 1861 through to 1965. Included are publications issued by various Nigerian governments and also those relating to Nigeria and the British Cameroons brought out by various British governmental offices, the League of Nations, and the United Nations. The bibliography is not limited to Library of Congress holdings; information is also given on materials held by other American libraries reporting to the National Union Catalog and publications cited either in lists prepared by Nigerian and British institutions or elsewhere.

Like other guides to official papers prepared by the African section of the General Reference and Bibliography Division, Nigeria opens with a brief historical summary and closes with a subject and author index. There are 2,451 entries.

Popular Names of U.S. Government Reports. A Catalog. Compiled by Donald F. Wisdom and William P. Kilroy. 1966. 32 p. 30 cents. This is an alphabetical listing of significant Government documents arranged not by official title or official issuing body but by the name by which they are generally known. The Warren Report, for instance, appears in the list under Warren whereas it appears in LC card catalogs as the Report of the President's Commission on the Assassination of President John F. Kennedy, with added entries for Kennedy and for Oswald but not for Warren.

Included are 479 reports of U.S. executive, legislative, and judicial bodies issued during the last 75 years. Entries comprise photographic reproductions of LC printed catalog cards. For the few reports not represented by printed catalog cards, bibliographic entries have been prepared with references to publications containing the reports. There is an index based on LC subject headings.
